

Inauguration Speech student Bintou Fanneh,

Good afternoon everyone,

My name is Bintou Fanneh and I am a Grade 6 student here at Lift Nursery/Primary School.

Today is a very special day because we are officially inaugurating our new eight-classroom block which includes a computer room and two offices.

This amazing structure was generously sponsored by Afas Software in Holland through the Education for The Gambia foundation.

On behalf of all the students, I would like to say a big thank you to Afas Software and Education for The Gambia foundation.

This new building will help us learn better and have more space for our classes. The computer room is especially exciting because we will get to learn new skills that are very important for our future.

I also want to share some thoughts about how we can make our school even better.

We hope that Afas Software and Education for The Gambia might consider helping us with some additional resources.

These include materials for home science, woodwork, and metal work for upper grades.

These subjects are very important because they help us learn practical skills that we can use in our everyday lives.

Once again, thank you very much to our sponsors for your incredible support.

With your help, we are excited about the bright future ahead for all of us at Lift Nursery and Primary School.

Thank you.
